

CRICKET

Christchurch Boys' High School is New Zealand's cricket school.

CBHS has won the Gillette Cup national titles in 2012, 2013 and 2014, and have won the competition eight times in its 25 year history, the latest being the National Secondary School Champions for 2016.

With the historic main building as a backdrop, the Straven Road grounds have been the nursery of some of New Zealand's great cricketers including the Hadlee family, Lee Germon and current BLACKCAPS Corey Anderson and Tom Latham.

Over 30 old boys have represented New Zealand in cricket.
